

HOUSE AGAIN
REPUBLICANLeaders Claim a Majority of 51
Over All.

CONCEDED BY DEMOCRATS

Chairman Richardson is Making No Claims as to the Strength of the Minority in the Lower House.CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—Dispatches from all of the 356 congressional districts show that the Republicans have elected 178, the Democrats 140, the fusionists 18, the silverites one and the Populists one.WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—Representative Londenschlager of New Jersey, sec-

THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

Secretary of the Republican congressional committee, claims the election of 204 Republicans to the next house, a majority over all of 51. The Democratic"I have used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and find it to be a great medicine," says Mr. R.
Phipps, of Potomac, Ark. "I cured one of bloody flux. I cannot speak too highly of it." This remedy always wins the good opinion, if not praise, of those who use it. The quick cures which it effects even the most severe cases make it a favorite everywhere. For sale by Wight & Bro. and all medicine dealers.Congressional headquarters were practically deserted.Chairman Richardson had not put in his appearance and his lieutenants had stopped figuring. They concede, however, that the next house will be safely Republican, but declined to estimate the Republican majority.

Republicans Claim the Legislature.

WILMINGTON, N. C., Nov. 7.—Returns are not yet in from Kent and Sussex counties and it is not possible to say which party controls the legislature.
The Democrats claim a majority on joint ballot, but the Republicans say they will control the legislature and elect two United States senators.

Result in Maryland.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 7.—Besides placing Maryland's eight electoral votes in the McKinley column, a solid Republican delegation to the Fifty-seventh congress was elected.

TOWN WIPED OUT BY FIRE.

Seventy-Five Houses Destroyed—Hundred—Rendered Homeless.NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 9.—Upward of 75 houses have been destroyed by fire at Biloxi, a well known summer resort and business center on the Mississippi sound, 8 miles from New Orleans.The fire broke out shortly after midnight and a heavy gale blew the flames from the Louisville and Nashville depot to the beach.The small fire department was powerless to stay the progress of the flames and houses had to be torn down in various parts of the city to check the spread of the conflagration.The Catholic church, convent, schools, newspaper office, many business houses and residences have been consumed.
Hundreds have been rendered homeless.
The inhabitants were panic stricken when the last reports reached here from the stricken town.It is said that the losses will exceed $500,000.It contains many frame buildings and the fire simply burned until it had nothing further to feed on. It broke out shortly after midnight in a saloon near the Louisville and Nashville depot, where a gang of negroes were playing dice.It destroyed the depot, then swept through to the beach, a distance of seven squares. Fortunately no lives were lost, but many of the poorer people lost all their possessions.The more important losses were as follows: T. D. Dillon, dry goods, $40,- 000; Orleans hotel, $4,000; the Catholic church, convent and school, $15,000; L.
Lopes & Co., grocers, $30,000.

Fought in the Courtroom.

WAYCROSS, Ga., Nov. 9.—Hon. W.
M. Toomer, Ware county's representative in the legislature, and ex-Judge J.
L. Sweat got into a difficulty in the superior courtroom while arguing a case.
Sweat struck Toomer a heavy blow over the head with a cane. Friends separated the combatants and Judge Bennett fined the gentlemen $50 for contempt of court.

Negro Woman Killed.

DARLINGTON, S. C., Nov. 9.—Lida Burgess, a negro woman, was shot and instantly killed here by George McFaddin, another negro. Lida and McFaddin had quarreled in the latter's yard and as the woman turned to leave Mc-Faddin shot her in the back. The sheriff is in pursuit of the murderer with blood-hounds.

Simmons Defeats Carr.

RALEIGH, Nov. 8.—F. M. Simmons defeated General J. S. Carr in the senatorial primary, his majority being nearly 50,000. The legislature is Democratic on joint ballot, which insures Simmons election to the United States senate to succeed Marion Butler.

COOLING DRINKS IN TURKEY.

Beverages and Ices Sold on All the Main Streets.On all the main streets nearly every other shop has a counter of white marble and large bottles of iced water, lemonade, cherry sirup, pomegranate sirup or something of the sort. Green leaves surround the bottles, and a little machine keeps up a tinkling of glasses to attract the passersby. Certain shops are known for their specialties in certain sirups and others for their water, about which Turks are very particular and can tell at once from which of the many springs near the capital it comes.
The streets swarm with itinerant sellers with elaborate arrangements for keeping the water cold. Some have a regular booth where they dispense anything from water to a gazelle, which is the name for effervescent lemonade.The simplest method is that adopted by those who carry about a huge glass bottle holding about two gallons of lemonade on the mouth of which is balanced a large lump of ice, continually dripping into the bottle. These drinks are the cheapest, one farthing a tumbler. Unfortunately the cold representing a farthing is almost extinct, so that the drinker has to drink two glasses or come back next day for the balance.
The ice cream vendors, too, must not be forgotten. Their picturesque get up is very distinctive, and they do a roaring trade. The ices they sell are very pure, and one never hears of cases of illness among those eating them. The time when the men do their best business with Europeans is at night after dinner. Every one is then sitting outside on the terraces or balconies overhanging the Bosphorus. The ice man comes along in a boat and seems at once to supply a long felt want.—Constantinople Cor. London Telegraph.

VEGETABLES.

Why Are Some Vulgar and Others

Aristocratic?

Why do we respect some vegetables and despise others? The bean is a graceful, confiding, engaging vine, but you never can put beans into poetry or into the highest kind of prose. There is no dignity in the bean.Corn—which in my garden grows alongside the bean, and so far as I can see, with no affectation of superiority—is, however, the child of song. It waves in all literature. But mix it with beans, and its high tone is gone. Suc-coteash is vulgar; it is the bean in it.
The bean is a vulgar vegetable, without culture or any favor of high society among vegetables.Then there is the cucumber, like so many people, good for nothing when it is ripe, and the wildness has gone out of it. How inferior to the melon, which grows upon a similar vine! The cucumber is a sort of low comedian in a company where the melon is a minor gentleman.The lettuce is to me a most interesting study. Lettuce is like conversation; it must be fresh and crisp, so sparkling that you scarcely notice the bitter in it.
Lettuce, like most talkers, though, is apt to run rapidly to seed.Blessed is that sort which comes to a head, and so remains—like a few people I know—growing more solid and satisfactory and tender and whiter at the center.Lettuce, like conversation, requires a good deal of oil, to avoid friction and keep the company smooth: a pinch of Attic salt, a dash of pepper, mustard and vinegar, but so mixed that you will notice no sharp contrasts, and a trifle of sugar.I feel that I am in the best society when I am with lettuce. It is in the most select vegetable circle.—Charles Dudley Warner in "My Summer in a Garden."

Walking on the Walls.

It is unlawful for a Chinese woman to walk on the city walls of Peking, but it is an exercise in which the Americans and Europeans indulge without objection upon days when they are open to the public.MARCUS DALY, THE COPPER KING, IS DEADSuccumbs to Bright's Disease
After a Long Illness.

HIS FIGHT AGAINST CLARK

History of the Montana Political Fued Between the Millionaire Mine Owners—Its Origin and Clark's Final Triumph at the Recent Election.NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Marcus Daly of Montana died today at the Hotel Netherlands.Mr. Daly's death has been expected for weeks. He came home from Europe about the middle of September and soon afterward was obliged to take the bed from which he never again arose. His physicians informed his relatives some time ago that Mr. Daly could not recover, and they gave assurances of life only from day to day. Bright's disease, complicated with heart weakness, was the cause of death.Marcus Daly was born in Ireland in 1842. He came to the United States early in life and since 1876 had been a citizen of Montana. He became general manager of the Alice silver mine and later came into control of the Anaconda copper mine. At the time of his death he was president of the Amalgamated Copper company. In politics he was a Democrat.The differences between Mr. Daly and W. A. Clark have attracted much attention. The trouble started years ago over some water rights near Butte, which Daly wanted and which Clark bought, forcing the other to pay a very high figure.Daly's opportunity for revenge came in 1888, when Clark was the Democratic nominee for delegate to congress.
With his immense influence at Anaconda Daly was able to throw a heavy vote to Clark, Clark's Republican opponent, which had previously been cast for the Democratic party. Montana became a state in 1890.At the first state election Clark was the Democratic nominee for representative in congress and J. K. Toole for governor. The latter was elected, but Clark was defeated, supposedly owing to Daly's influence. Clark was put forward by his party for the United States

Recommends it to Trainmen.

G. H. Hausan, Lima, O., Engineer L.
E. & W. R. R., writes: "I have been troubled a great deal with backache. I was induced to try Foley's Kidney Cure, and one bottle entirely relieved me. I gladly recommend it to any one, especially my friends among the train men, who are usually similarly afflicted." Wight & Bro.senate. After a bitter contest the legislature was organized by both parties, each claiming to be legal. The Republicans named Thomas O. Powers and W.
O. Sanders for their senators while the Democrats put up Clark and Major Martin McGinnis. The Republicans were seated.

Daly's Second Victory.

Mr. Daly's influence defeated Clark in a second contest in 1893. In that legislature the Democrats had 35 votes, the Populists 3 and the Republicans 33.
The Daly Democrats, numbering 33, voted solidly for ex-congressman W.
W. Dixon and there was a deadlock for the entire session of 60 days. Telegrams from men like Calvin S. Ericson and W. C. Whitney and others equally high in their party were sent to Daly to withdraw his opposition, but he ignored them.The next fight between Daly and Clark was on the location of the state capitol. Helena, Missoula, Bozeman and Anaconda were in the fight. Daly advocated the last named place. Clark at first favored Butte, but finally changed to Helena and it was chosen.The senatorship again became the bone of contention between the two millionaires last January and Clark was elected. Daly had the validity of the election contested on the ground of bribery, when Clark presented his credentials to the United States senate. The use of money in an election was freely acknowledged on both sides, though it was claimed that the expenditures were for legitimate expenses only. The contest resulted in the senate voting that there had been no election by the Montana legislature.

Clark's Final Triumph.

This year Clark made a fight for the election of members of the legislature in his interests and won. His return to the United States senate next January is assured.No mining property has achieved greater fame as a producer of dividends than the famous Anaconda. Originally bought as a silver mine it became famous for its copper and to it both Daly and Clark largely owe their vast fortunes. Back in the seventies two miners named Hickey went to Montana. They selected a hill overlooking the little mining camp of Butte and began to sink their shaft. They struck a fair vein of silver, but lack of funds made them stop work and offer to sell.Marcus Daly bought the property for $35,000. He acted, it is said, as agent for J. B. Haggin of California.As the new owners ran their shaft down they opened one of the world's greatest copper mines with silver enough to pay all expenses and having the copper as clear profit. Daly was superintendent and part owner of the mine. He bought the adjacent property. He founded the town of Anaconda in a valley 35 miles distant, and located where there is an exhaustless supply of water and great deal of wood—two in-dispensables for the smelting and reduction of ores. At that place he erected the greatest copper plant in the world.Daly had a passion for horses of blood and speed. He owned the $40,000 colt, Hamburg, Tammany, Montana, Senator, Gwendoline, Ogden, and other famous winners. He tried to buy the winner of the derby and Ascot race of 1897.Galies More, but his offer of $125,000 was not accepted.

Death of Henry Villard.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Henry Villard, the railroad magnate and financier, died at his summer residence at Dobbs Ferry early today. Mr. Villard had intended to return to New York about the middle of last month, but his condition was then so precarious that his physicians advised him to remain at his country home until he should have gained more strength. A week ago he caught a heavy cold and since then his condition has been gradually growing worse.
Two physicians have been with him constantly for a week past.

THE TRAIN WAS STOPPED.

And Then the Question Was Who to Hold Responsible."One night last winter," said a Boston man, "I came up from the south with two friends of mine. They occupied the stateroom, and I was lodged in a section outside. They were in a hot discussion before they retired, and one of them had finally become so sleepy as to abandon the argument.
I turned finally, as they did, but the man to whom the argument had been abandoned did not seem satisfied with the victory he had won, and when I left them he was busily engaged in trying to prolong the talk with his sleepy companion."Shortly after I had fallen asleep I was awakened by some confusion in the aisle of the car. The train was at a dead stop, and then I heard the voice of the conductor angrily ask of the porter, 'Now, who in thunder pulled that bell rope?' I had a shrewd suspicion, but deemed it safe to lie quiet and say nothing. Finally the train started, and as they could not find out who had jerked the bell rope the car assumed its customary night aspect. Presently the stateroom door opened and one of my friends requested me to step in and decide a bet. It seems that he who was not sleepy was trying to tell the man who was something to which the sleepy one refused to listen on the ground that the noise of the car wheels made it impossibleIf you have ever seen a child in the arms of a crowd you can realize how grateful I was for the One Minute Cough Cure which give relief as soon as it is administered. It quickly cures coughs, colds and all throat and lung troubles. All dealers.for him to hear. The other man promptly rang the bell and stopped the train, as has already been told.The bet of $50 was as to who was responsible for stopping the train. The sleepy one said the wide awake one, because he had pulled the bell rope.
The wide awake one said it was the sleepy one, because he had averred that he could not hear what was said to him because of the rumbling of the train, which naturally led to the train being stopped. I decided in favor of the wide awake man, which effectually waked the other up also. Which would you have decided in favor of?"—New York Tribune.

Thinking of Her.

In the "Reflections of a New England Town" is the story of Mr. Bush, an inventor and a very studious man, who sometimes became so absorbed in thought as to forget both place and people.His wife was a notable housekeeper, but she did not always go to church.
One Sunday she accompanied her husband thither, and glad and proud was he. But when the service was over he walked away home, leaving her behind. Mrs. Bush was grieved."My dear," she said when she reached the house, "I don't know what people will think. You came away without me. It was plain to be seen that I was entirely forgotten."Mr. Bush looked at her in comical dismay. "Forgotten, my dear?" said he. "Oh, no; I don't think that's possible. Why," a brilliant idea striking him, "now I remember. I was thinking of you all the way home. I was thinking what a good dinner you'd give me!"

Dangers of Boating.

Clara—When George and I are married, I am to have my own way in everything.

Dora—Guess you won't.

Clara—Indeed I will. That's the bargain. Don't you remember I told you he proposed to me in a rowboat and asked if I'd float through life with him just that way?

"Yes."

"Well, he was rowing, but I was steering."—New York Weekly.

A Misleading Analogy.

"When you eat, be careful to leave off hungry," is advice often given at the dinner table, but seldom received in an obedient spirit.The caution was repeated not long since to a young man of vigorous appetite."Pshaw," said he, "you might as well tell me to wash my face and be careful to leave off dirty."

"As if a brick were lying in my stomach" is the description by a dyspeptic of toms of indigestion. If you have it, take Shaker Digestive Cordial.Not only this symptom, but all the symptoms of indigestion are cured by

Returns Were Not Adequate.

A minister in Glasgow, says The Scottish-American, asked an old man who was standing looking at one of the Sabbath school windows how he would like to join the Sunday school and grow up a good man."What sort o' Sunday schule is it?"
"Established?""Yes," said the old man. "It is connected with the Established church.
Are you not coming in?""Na," replied the boy. "I tried the Established Kirk Sunday schule last year, an I only got two fardin oranges an a pock o' sweeties at the Christmas tree, sae I'm gaun to gie the Free kirk a trial this year."

The Early Bird.

Ethel—Do you like Mr. Eames, mamma?Mamma (a young widow)—Why, yes, darling.

Ethel—And Mr. Webster?

Mamma—Yes, dear.

Ethel—And Mr. Fish and Mr. Dixon and Mr. Sheldon?

Mamma—I like them all, pet.

Ethel—Which one are you going to marry, then?Mamma—The one who proposes first, darling.—Harlem Life.

They Swapped.

A little boy in Bangor, Me., was suffering from a severe cold, and his mother gave him a bottle of cough mixture to take while at school. On his return she asked if he had taken his medicine. "No," he candidly replied, "but Bobby Jones did. He liked it, so I swapped it with him for a handful of peanuts."
